ASSOCIATION CANNOT ACCEPT FULL REQUEST

WINCHESTER, VA., November 28.—The Mount Hebron Cemetery Association to which was bequeathed $10,000 in trust by the will of the late Charles W. Houck, a wealthy retired Winchester contractor and builder, cannot accept more than $1,000 of the bequest, and the remaining $9,000 will be distributed among his heirs at law, according to a decision handed down yesterday by Judge T. H. Harrison in the Corporation Court. It is not expected the case will be appealed. The late Mr. Houck left $10,000 to the Cemetery Association, to be invested perpetually and the income applied to the care of his lot, and also to the general care of the grounds for a radius of 100 feet around the Houck lot. He also provided that, in case the association failed to perform the trust, the bequest should revert to his heirs. Judge Harrison cited the Virginia statute, which makes it unlawful for any one to give an amount in excess of $1,000 for such purposes. The court held that the law was applicable and binding; that the Cemetery Association could accept $1,000, and that the remaining $9,000 should be divided among the heirs. The heirs also attacked a clause of the will, which made the Braddock Street Methodist Episcopal Church, South, residuary legatee of the estate, after all other bequests had been made. The court held that, under the law, the church could not accept real estate valued at more than $30,000, but that such property could be sold, and the proceeds accepted by the church as personal property.

WATSON WANTS ENTIRE COPIES GIVEN TO JURY

Government Fights for Presentation Only of Articles Containing Alleged Obscene Matter.

LENGTHY LEGAL FIGHT LIKELY

Case Will Enter on Third Day Today, and Appears Probable That It Will Not Be Completed Before Some Time on Tuesday.

AUGUSTA, GA., November 28.—Trial of Thomas E. Watson, of Thomson, Ga., charged with sending obscene matter through the mail, will be resumed in the Federal court here tomorrow with prospects of a lengthy legal battle on Watson's plea that the entire copies of his publications containing the alleged improper matter should be placed before the jury, and not merely the articles objected to by the government. It also was stated that Watson might take the stand in his own defense. The government completed its case on Saturday.

The articles mentioned in the indictment were published in 1911 and 1912 in Watson's Jeffersonian Magazine, in Watson's Magazine and in the Jeffersonian. They consisted of attacks upon the Roman Catholic Church. Language used in the attacks was claimed by the government to be outlawed from the mails.

MAY TAKE TWO MORE DAYS TO COMPLETE TRIAL

The case tomorrow will enter upon its third day, and it was thought tonight that it would take probably all of Monday and possibly part of Tuesday to complete it. Watson, who is a member of the Georgia bar, has acted as his own chief counsel. He has declined to say whether or not he would introduce witnesses. He tried on Saturday, however, to get before the jury the complete issues of his publications. The government objected and court was adjourned before the question was decided.

Watson also was expected to make another effort to get before the jury his motives in publishing the articles mentioned in the indictment. He already has been overruled on one point in this connection.

ABOUT TORIC LENSES

Toric (curved) lenses are more becoming because they conform to the shape of the eye. They are more comfortable because there are no visible "edges" to annoy. They give a wider field of vision because they fit close, and all parts of the lens being equi-distant from the eye, they allow the use of the entire lens.

DEFENDS RECOGNITION OF CARRANZA IN MEXICO

Tumulty Writes to Dr. James J. McGuire, Who Asks Explanation of "Widespread Criticism."

FALSE REPORTS OF CRIMES

Files of State Department Fail to Disclose Any Official Record of Single Proven Case of Outrages Upon Nuns.

WASHINGTON, November 28.—The administration's reply to those who criticize the recognition of the Carranza government in Mexico because of charges of outrages upon priests and nuns of the Catholic Church was made public here to-night in a letter by Secretary Tumulty to Dr. James J. McGuire, of Trenton, N. J., who recently wrote to the White House asking for an explanation of what he characterized as "widespread criticism."

Secretary Tumulty advised Dr. McGuire that the files of the State Department failed to disclose any official record of a single proven case of outrages upon nuns, and he included in his letter a statement by the Catholic vicar-general at Mexico City, which while disclosing the shooting of priests, and the expulsion and imprisonment of others, declared there had been no violations of runs in that district.

Secretary Tumulty said in all the horrors of the conflict have been kept alive by those on the losing side, but that it should be the duty of all citizens of both the United States and Mexico to contribute in every manner to the early rehabilitation of the nation so long torn by civil strife and to avoid keeping open the wounds.

COUNSEL AND SYMPATHY OF WONDERFUL EFFICACY

"Counsel and sympathy are needful and would be meritorious now, because they would be of wonderful efficacy in uniting the people of Mexico in the work of reconstruction," wrote Mr. Tumulty. "Efforts to arouse rancorous feelings among them will have the effect of opening anew the wounds which should be healed, and of creating an open sore to torture that poor people as long as their minds are kept inflamed against their brethren."

The secretary also called attention to the recognition of President Juarez by the Buchanan administration following "the bloodiest of all civil wars ever waged in Mexico," marked by "all the bitterness and cruelties of a religious war."

Emphasis was laid on the recognition of Carranza by the Latin American countries which joined in the Pan-American peace conference. All of these Latin American countries, Mr. Tumulty pointed out, were Catholic nations.

Finally, a statement was reproduced which was given the State Department by Eliseo Arredondo, the Washington representative of General Carranza, last October, pledging the Carranza government to respect everybody's "life, property, and religious beliefs."

Secretary Tumulty inclosed in his message, a letter written by former Secretary Bryan last March to Rev. Francis C. Kelley, of Chicago, giving in detail various steps taken by the United States government during the progress of the revolution in Mexico to protect the representatives of all religious organizations in Mexico. It previously has been published.
